The incident occurred as Glover, Bennett, Jerry Brattain, and another teenager, Bob Coleman, 18, were driving home to Greencastle from nearby Russelville. While on Rt. 234 their attention was attracted to a huge red light in the sky, and they parked to get a better look at it.

As soon as they stopped the car the red light moved over them and descended to about 200 feet above them.

"It wasn't shaped like anything we had ever seen," said Glover. "It appeared to be about 50 by 100 feet in size, equipped with large white lights on each side. Several other colored lights were also visible." All agreed the thing was kidney shaped.

Somewhat frightened, but intensely curious, the boys flashed the car spotlight on the object, but after that didn't take the time to obtain a better look. For as soon as the light hit the saucer, it descended toward them rapidly, discharging an object which entered the car and exploded against Glover's cheek after bouncing from the floor. Then the object shot upward at great speed and "then moved north like a bolt of lightning," to quote Glover.

Feeling that the story might possibly be a hoax dreamed up by imaginative teenagers, THE BULLETIN tracked down the source of the story. We learned from The Indianapolis News, where the story had appeared, that it originated in Greencastle from a correspondent who worked for a small weekly newspaper, The Putnam County Graphic.

Next we telephoned the correspondent in Greencastle, learned he, Kenneth Bennett, was not only the father of witness George Bennett, but the owner of the paper as well. He had been in the newspaper business 11 years, he said, also was the publisher of a house publication issued by the Arketax Ceramic Corp., a large Indiana firm. After speaking momentarily with Bennett, we felt we could get at the truth of the story.

Bennett confirmed the story word for word as printed, adding other information. First, he was convinced his son was telling the truth. "After knowing my boy for 17 years," Bennett told us, "I should be able to tell whether he is telling the truth. I've fed, clothed and schooled him all these years, and I don't think he'd lie to me."

Bennett added that he had "never seen a bunch of boys as excited" as the group was when they rushed into his house, out of breath, after the incident.

Questioned further about the "bomb," Bennett's son said it exploded "like a loud handclap," leaving no burns. After the explosion the boys found yellow, purple and blue fragments on the floor of the car, but averred the fragments in no way resembled the paper left from an exploded Fourth of July firecracker. They had turned over the fragments to a local chemist, Bennett said, but at that time had received no report.

There was no odor during the incident, though Bennett described an odd noise accompanying the sighting. "It was a real soft noise -- not at all like the noise a plane makes," Bennett said. When asked if it were a hum, he said, "that is more like it." The boys had no idea how the object had entered the car, though presumed it was from the saucer.

No Air Force investigation had been made at the time of the interview, nor had the sighting been reported to the A.F. State Police had been notified, however, and Putnam County Sheriff Joe Rollings advised young people not to visit the scene of the sighting. He said his office had received several other reports from residents in the northwest part of the county that they, too, had seen saucers resembling the type reported by the four youths.

At presstime Hugh McPherson, who runs a weekly flying saucer radio show program on WCHS, Charleston, W. Va., was making further investigations. Incidentally, your editor usually gets on this weekly program by way of tape. The show starts at 11:15 E.D.S.T.

DANA HOWARD (authoress of "DIANE--SHE CAME FROM VENUS" and "MY TRIP TO VENUS") has finally published her new volume many Howard fans have been waiting for. Titled "OVER THE THRESHOLD," the new hard cover book has been described as a "startling adventure in New Age realities." Through the mouthpiece of a beautiful out-of-space messenger, Diane, the book is said to "provide a method for reaching tomorrow's greatness today."

In a letter to THE BULLETIN Dana Howard explained that the latest messages from Diane are teachings that "use the molding power of thought, not as an abstract something, with a hit and miss result.....but something which can now be tapped and used for the production of the things we desire on this earth, health, wealth and happiness." The author used the new techniques on a health condition of her own, she stated, and experienced almost magical results. She sincerely believes "this is the biggest thing to come out of saucerdom."

If you do not already have this new book, SAUCERIAN headquarters can supply it at $3.00. While talking about books, we still have a few copies of T. James's bound manuscript, titled SPACEMEN--FRIENDS AND FOES, at $2.00. Warning: it's not something to be read at bedtime!

EXCLUSIVE: BUCK NELSON'S OLD AGE PENSION HAS BEEN TAKEN AWAY FROM HIM because of his publicizing alleged visits by space people.

We quote from Nelson's letter: "I was receiving what is called a permanent, total disability pension. I understand the state pays half and the county half, though the check is made out by the State of Missouri.

"Edna Haggard, my case worker, came to my home and said to me, 'Anyone who saw a flying saucer, or said they did -- and especially anyone who said they rode in one is CRAZY.' She was very mean and ornery to me. What I had to take from her was a shame. She said I would have to take an examination for my sanity to get my pension back, but said she thought I would NEVER get it back. She said they would even put me in an insane asylum to stop my story, and that they would starve me out and force me to shut up that way.

"My pension check was for $55.00 per month, and I thought that was nearly starvation living. Now I do a lot worse and live on much less."

Nelson adds that "Someone phoned me to say that Senator Capehart may call some public hearings on CONTACTEES, and that he had heard one of my tape recordings."

"I may be called a Communist and considered one, because I am against war and the bomb tests. I sure am NOT."

Incidentally, the address of Nelson's case worker is: County Welfare Office, Houston, Missouri.

CLOSE BEHIND THIS LETTER FROM NELSON came another of equal interest, and we must take space to quote from it:

"I am having more trouble, Mr. Barker. It seems like they won't leave me alone. I have been working on a plan to get lights and power from the air -- FREE POWER. A sort of private Saucer Convention was held at my place here June 29-30, which about 50 people attended. At this Convention I made the statement that I was working on this free power, and that I had succeeded in obtaining enough power to burn out light bulbs, but had NOT found how to control it, as it came in spurges, and NOT in a steady flow. The people at the convention were very interested in my discovery and wished me well.

"THEN ON JULY 4th THREE MEN CALLED ON ME, demanded my blueprints and equipment. I refused to give this to them, and then the men said they did not have time to argue with me, and started to find gasoline and coal oil to burn me out, said a bad accident would leave no evidence, and also get rid of me, thus stopping my story and free power invention all at once. So I gave them the drawings and equipment.

"After they looked the material all over, the men said I was on the right track and coming too close to this FREE POWER. They told me NEVER to work on the project again, and let it entirely alone. They said if I did, and they found out about it, I would have a bad accident. The men seemed to know what to look for when examining my equipment. They took not only what I used in the experiment, but also lots of extra wiring, sockets, etc., which they said could be used. So I lost lots of electrical equipment in this steal. I don't see why I always have to be the goat."

SO THERE YOU HAVE BUCK NELSON'S AMAZING NARRATIVE. Although not every saucerer has believed Buck Nelson's experiences, most everyone admits his narratives have been interesting. Nelson's book, MY TRIP TO MARS, THE MOON AND VENUS (paper bound) is now out, and THE BULLETIN has arranged to supply them to readers at $1.00 each. This is a complete accounting of Buck's alleged space exploits and encounters with saucerers. You can send in your order immediately.

EXCLUSIVE: C.S.I. LEADER HAS FRACAS WITH FRY. The most exciting feature of the Long John (WOR, NYC) radio show of June 21 was not heard on the air for it was mainly visual. George Van Tassell and Daniel Fry, both claimants of contacts with space people and rides in flying saucers, appeared on the interview show MC'd by Long John Nebel after making a successful lecture in New York City the night before, when they had drawn more than 1000 paid admissions.

Lex Mebane, one of the leaders of Civilian Saucer Intelligence, a Manhattan saucer investigation group, along with CSI members Ted Bloecher and Jules St. Germain, joined the interview late in the morning (the show runs from 1:00 to 5:30 A.M.), seriously questioned the contact claims of the participants.

Fry, "on the fire" for a considerable time, finally announced, "You have maintained that you could recognize a genuine extra-terrestrial artifact, and have been asking for physical evidence that we are in contact with extraterrestrials. YET HERE, UNDER YOUR EYES, HAS LAIN UNNOTICED FOR FIVE HOURS AN ARTIFACT WHICH IS NOT DUPLICATED ANYWHERE ON EARTH!"

With this he indicated an object lying on the table, a brown, perforated disk about two inches in diameter and half an inch thick.

Mebane made a dive over Fry's shoulder for the object, hastily pocketed it, with the intention, we assume of analyzing it. Fry, seemingly greatly upset at the loss of his interplanetary artifact, leaped from his chair to recover it. The resulting scuffle didn't reach violent proportions, since the disk came out a hole in Mebane's pocket, fell to the floor. It all added up to a group of embarrassed saucerers and Long John trying to fill the empty air space during the hassle. Fry finally recovered and pocketed the disk.

Considerable bad blood had been shed during the program while C.S.I.:

(1) Charged that Van Tassell's so-called "rejuvenation machine" (which Van Tassell has allegedly employed to restore a lizard's crushed head) was fraudulent.

(2) Developed that Van Tassell had received roughly $29,000 in the past six months from supporters of his College of Universal Wisdom, an organization of which Van Tassell has complete financial control and the sole power to write checks.

(3) Questioned Van Tassell unsuccessfully for the name and address of a Detroit man who was constructing a "Con-o-Scope" for him -- a device similar to a crystal ball in which scenes of far-away events could be seen without psychic ability, and which had been developed from plans supplied by space people. Nostradamus had one of these devices, Van Tassel, stated, and that enabled him to make his world-famous predictions.

In a statement to THE BULLETIN Mebane stated that the metallic disk exhibited by Fry was recognizable as a "toroidal ferrite magnet of the type used in high-speed computers."

MORE NEWS ABOUT VAN TASSEL: He told a group of saucerers at Franklin, Pa., that at the beginning of his trip to the East his brand new plane was caught in a whirlwind and smashed to bits while leaving Giant Rock Airport, and that as a result he had to drive. Van Tassel also told the Franklin group he was to confer with President Eisenhower on the subject of radiation while in the east, but the meeting was called off when the President became ill and went to Gettysburg, Pa. All this according to Van Tassel.

A FULL-SCALE H-BOMB ATTACK COULD WIPE OUT THE U.S. as far as a defensible nation is concerned, Charles K. Shafer, of CDA, told the congressional subcommittee on radioactive fallout. He said such an attack would kill 82,000,000 Americans, if 250 H-Bombs were dropped on 144 major American cities and strategic targets. Rep. Holifield (D-Calif.), the subcommittee chairman, told International News Service correspondents that such an attack "for all intents and purposes would destroy us as a nation."

BIG NEWS IN MICHIGAN AREA was a FS convention held by the MICHIGAN FLYING SAUCER FEDERATION on June 29th. Conventioneers were mainly agog over a color movie shown by George Adamski, just back from Mexico and a lecturer at the meeting. We quote a special release to the BULLETIN:

More than three hundred people saw a color movie at the Federation of Women's Club Building presented by the Interplanetary Foundation. George Adamski provided the film and gave the accompanying lecture.

Shown in the first part of the twelve-minute film were six drawings from Africa and twelve from Japan. These dealt with the interpretation of the Venusian footprints and symbols on the photographic plate described in the book, FLYING SAUCERS HAVE LANDED.

THE SECOND HALF OF THE FILM SHOWED ACTUAL COLOR MOVIES OF SAUCERS. Some of the outstanding scenes included a jet with vapor trail rising and passing under two very large disks; two disks moving across the sky; and a small recording disk maneuvering in front of a bank of foliage while the larger craft controlling it hovered above and in back of it.

A NEW TYPE OF FLYING SAUCER, or flying whazzit, interrupted the explorations of Dr. W. Clinton Giles, geologist of Rapid City, South Dakota, during the summer. Dr. Giles was doing geological work in the Canyon Branch of Little Oil Creek when his attention was drawn to a rapidly moving object. A long fiery thing, which he estimated to be about 300 feet long, and 10 feet in diameter, whizzed by him and flew at great speed about 200 feet below the top of the canyon. Visible for only about five seconds, it vanished toward the Black Hills to the east. The object made no noise. Dr. Giles was so upset by the sighting that he abandoned exploration and headed for home.

EXCLUSIVE: Dr. Charles Laughead has abandoned his Priory at Moyamba, Peru, and is headed back, or is already back in the States. This move came about, according to reliable information reaching THE BULLETIN, because of a difference of opinion between Dr. Laughead and George Hunt Williamson, also one of the organizers of the Priory.

In bulletins which he has sent to the U.S. Williamson has outlined his activities since leaving the Priory. He has formed what he terms "The Abbey," in a secret valley in Peru, where he was led, he says, by telepathic messages from members of The Brotherhood of the Seven Rays, which has a hidden monastery at Lake Titicaca, Peru.

Members of the secret brotherhood, which have existed there from the days of Atlantis and Lemuria, are, according to Williamson, ready to reveal ancient information withheld from the world until this date.

In his latest Bulletin Williamson states that while it is true that the continent of South America was colonized, in a small way, by Atlantis and Lemuria, SOUTH AMERICA EXISTED SIDE BY SIDE with Atlantis and Mu as a THIRD GREAT CIVILIZATION, even ahead of its two sister continents in scientific and intellectual development. Since South America did not sink, as did the other two continents, Williamson states that some of the ancient cities still exist and are populated, only hidden in the dense jungles. He hopes to be led to these cities by The Brotherhood of the Seven Rays.

Although Williamson has not revealed the location of the "secret valley" where his group is now living, THE BULLETIN has information that it lies six degrees south latitude east of the Andean mountain range.

THE FOLLOWING ARE UN-CHECKED RUMORS ABOUT WILLIAMSON: That he has allowed his hair to grow shoulder-length. This with him in Peru is Karl Hmrath, a rather mysterious character in early saucerdoings. It was Hmrath who brought a mysterious machine to Mt. Palomar during a visit with George Adamski. He told Adamski the machine could be used to bring down planes -- AND flying saucers. Hmrath is even more famous for disappearing with Wilbur J. Wilkinson in late 1953, after renting a plane, ostensibly to use for tracking down a flying saucer. The pair never did return, and it was presumed the saucer had gobbled them up, plane and all. Other more doubting folk believed the pair had absconded to Mexico.

Found on the walls of Wilkinson's home were weird signs and language, which his wife, left behind, said came from outer space. Later it was learned the strange symbols were attributed to Williamson, who had allegedly discovered them, either in his explorations, or communications with space people.

OTHER INFORMATION RUN DOWN BY THE BULLETIN: The Priory at Moyamba was NOT in the mountains at all, but in the village of Moyamba. It consisted of a two-story house and out buildings.

Back to Dr. Laughead, again, a press time bulletin has it that he is now in Prescott, Ariz., where he has established a practice. Dr. Laughead formerly was employed by the Veteran's Administration, of Whipple, Ariz.

In an attempt at thoroughness, THE BULLETIN, through one of its correspondents,

THE SAUCERIAN BULLETIN (Combined with COSMIC NEWS) is edited and published by Gray Barker, Box 2228, Clarksburg, W. Va.; D. C. Lucchesi, General Consultant; August C. to the character of Dr. Laughead, and received the following letter from his former

"Dear _____:

"This is in reply to your letter of May 8th regarding Dr. Charles Laughead who until recently was a member of our medical staff.

"I understand that Dr. Laughead is now in Peru and is engaged in a religious retreat for the Order of the Seven Rays. This Order is greatly interested in extra-sensory perception, such as mental telepathy and abilities to predict future events. Dr. Laughead is one of the leaders of this group.

"Insofar as Dr. Laughead's character is concerned, he is ethical and a conscientious physician and has the ability to establish good rapport with patients and other medical personnel.

"I hope this information will be of some value to you in making your decision regarding your contemplated move to Peru.

"Sincerely,"

NEWEST SAUCER PUBLICATION IS "THE UFOLOGER," published by James Villard and Dan Washburn at 4301 Massachusetts Ave., N.Y., Washington 16, D.C. $2.00 for 6 issues, 35¢ single copies. OCTOBER ISSUE OF "AMAZING STORIES" (on sale about Sept. first) will be devoted to articles on saucers, including one titled "The Aliens Are Among Us," by G.B. Most amazing of all is the return of Richard S. Shaver to AMAZING STORIES, the magazine in which he shocked the nation with his famous "Shaver Mystery." Once booted out of the magazine because science fiction fans didn't believe his stories which he said were true, Shaver now returns with an article -- yep, about the dero. September issue of FANTASTIC UNIVERSE SCIENCE FICTION has a great deal of non-fiction saucer material, most interesting of which concerns a theory, developed by the Civilian Saucer Intelligence of NYC, that many of the saucers may be space or upper-atmosphere animals. The article, titled "Shapes In The Sky," suggests that the months September to November may be the mating season of the "animals," when the saucers descend close to the earth to be seen. The weird maneuvering of saucers may simply be mating dances, theorizes the CSI.

ANOTHER AIRLINER BUZZED BY UFO. A TWA airliner was forced to dip suddenly on the night of July 22, to avoid an unidentified flying object, injuring a passenger and a hostess of the four-engined Constellation, bound from Chicago to Tuscon nonstop.

A spokesman for TWA said the pilot was flying an assigned course at 18,000 feet when he sighted the running lights on an approaching object flying a collision course. The spokesman did not identify the object further.

THE BULLETIN suspects that such cases happen much more often than published. It is only when passengers are badly shaken up that officials know some explanation must be made. Government censorship is not necessary to keep such reports from the public: Passenger traffic would dwindle rapidly if prospective plane riders knew how many UFO's are in the airplanes.

The movie, titled "UFO," has NOT been held up from showings by the Government. Truth is that boxoffice on the film has been so poor exhibitors hesitate to book it. From the public's standpoint, the film is made in too honest a documentary fashion and has none of the science fictionish gimmicks that have made fictional saucer films boxoffice successes.
